Our smartphone is a technological tool that, paradoxically, can be very useful to improve our relationship with the most primitive nature. For example, thanks to its ability to identify any plant that we find in our day, I know that if you are one of those privileged with garden, at once, a curiosity has flooded a curiosity. Notice that makes you ask yourself like: What is this plant? Why does it grow in my garden? Can I cut this áfárbo? What a rope to this branch will endure the weight of my body? Well, you will like to know that your mäfâ³va puts to your disposition an encyclopedia of knowledge for lovers of the Garden, the bottle or horticulture. And it is that using only the cãfâmara of your mäfâ³vil you can discover valuable information about the plants, flowers and áfa úrboles of your environment. In these cases, it will be more Cil will be to try Google Lens (a google app specially designed so that the cãfâmara of your mäfâ³va recognizes what he sees, offering information about it), but unfortunately it is very It is possible that this technology of Google still remains for detriment in a good number of cases. Therefore, we have prepared a selection of applications to identify plants and flowers with the Mäfâ³ that they will be very useful in your dishes with the flora around you. "What is this plant?"
